I love the variety of space ships you can be all with their unique abilities, and the music is awesome! My only issue is their isn't really any people online you can play with, cause the game's kinda small at the moment, but yeah overall I really like it!. A bit of a let down, personally. I heard great things about the cool, DOTA inspired modes, but that stuff doesn't seem to really have much effect on the actual game. The action isn't as tight as TF2, and the turrets just seem sort of useless. Not a horrible game, but I wouldn't pay $15 bucks for it if I hadn't already.

Might be worth it when it's on sale for $5.. This game is basically (a port of?) a free-to-play mobile game except for PC; and paid. You got your energy system, your premium currency, getting stars for various degrees of finishing a level, your 'log in every day to get your daily bonus' and as a special feature 'Oh it seems you haven't logged in for a few days. Tough luck, now your horse is dead.'

If you like this kind of mobile game and want to play it on PC, go right ahead this will probably be a game for you and it seems there is a lot of content here. Just maybe wait for the next sale.

For everyone else: your money and play time will probably be better spent elsewhere.. An easier, more entertaining version of Professor Layton games. With some of the funniest characters I have seen in a long time.

Also no one seems to use their arms. 10V10. The rest of the season is not in my library. How do i get the rest of the season in my game library. Thank you!. TL;DR Simple but satisfying gameplay that delivers on its promise of a Dark Souls style Legend of Zelda.

Like Dark Souls, the game can be very challenging at first but then ultimately can seem quite easy once you master the mechanics.

I finished the game twice and saw what I think are the only two endings, but I expect I will continue to play around as I experiment with different builds and perhaps try to achieve a deathless run (it tells you how many times you died upon completing the game).

If you're a fan of this type of game in general, I encourage you to give it a try. Although it's not perfect, this game definitely exceeded my expectations.

Really enjoyed the shooting. Tried calling my female ninja "Sakura" as a generic name, was told:

"Sorry, this is not an episode of 'Naruto'. Please try again."

10V10 would be told I can't use a generic name again.. What a bargain! Only 2 dollars at this time! Fantastic user interface, nice library of models to populate a scene. Terrain editor is fun to work with, multiple terrains can be patched together to create vast landscapes. The rigged human model is easy to pose in VR. Wow! I am thoroughly impressed. Still exploring and learning how to utilize this software, but enjoying doing so. It would be nice if the publisher had some tutorial videos but this is not overly difficult to figure out. I am a big fan of VR software that allows the user to create environments: Modbox, Diorama Worlds, World Builder, SculptVR, Climbey are all worth checking out. StageX has some features that surpass the other software mentioned.

I am adding a link to some video I recorded while in AppVGame <https://youtu.be/VLhybT12FiT0>. Love the theme song from OST, as well as the artbook itself. Too bad a lot of content in the book is missing from the game. Hope that some of it will be implemented in the second part of the game, which I really want to see.. First off, this is carrom on a checkers board, not checkers the turn-based board game. That isn't necessarily a bad thing, of course, but unfortunately this is essentially a game demo rather than a full game. Expect to complete the game in maybe half an hour.

Incidentally, the achievements are very buggy and you will fail to unlock them quite often.. It's alright for a puzzler. I wasn't too impressed, the dialogue was rather silly and immature at times. I'd recommend it for anyone looking for a quick and easy game.. I'm trying to decide if this game is bad on purpose. I really wanted to like it because the premise sounded interesting, but the writing (or rather, the translations?) is just terrible. I got the sense that it's aiming for tween girls rather than women in general because the humor is juvenile and at times mean. The art is cute, but not enough to save this. I seriously cannot play this game any more, it's doing my head in.. do i have it
V. This game taught me how to be a baller. nice game. i can spend all my life killing the cute animals i don't want to kill out of boredom
